DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 12-20, drawn to a method for producing methionine using a microorganism deficient in a repressor of methionine biosynthesis, classified in class 435, subclass 113.
 - II. Claims 21-30, drawn to a method for producing methionine using a microorganism with enhanced homoserine transsuccinylase activity, classified in class 435, subclass 113.
 - III. Claims 31-40, drawn to a method for producing methionine using a microorganism deficient in a repressor of methionine biosynthesis and has enhanced homoserine transsuccinylase activity, classified in class 435, subclass 113.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Each of Groups I, II and III is directed to a separate and distinct invention. Group I is directed to a method of producing methionine using a microorganism deficient in a repressor of methionine biosynthesis, Group II is directed to a method of producing methionine using a microorganism with enhanced homoserine transsuccinylase activity and Group III is directed to a method of producing methionine using a microorganism deficient in a repressor of methionine biosynthesis. These methods are distinct as the microorganisms used in these methods are structurally and functionally distinct. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

3. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: a) exhibits reduced intracellular S-adenosylmethionine synthetase activity, b) exhibits L-threonine auxotrophy, c) exhibits enhanced intracellular cystathionine γ -synthase and aspartokinase-homoserine dehydrogenase II activity, d) has a homoserine transsuccinylase for which concerted inhibition by L-methionine and S-adenosylmethionine is desensitized.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 12, 21 and 31 are generic.

Upon the election of one of the three groups and a species election, the claims of the elected Group will be examined only to the extent of the elected species.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(I).
